

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR
CITY OF NEW YORK

Citation

Whereas, New York is immensely proud of its reputation as an innovator on our nation's scientific frontiers, particularly in the field of health care. Researchers, whose cutting-edge discoveries have laid the groundwork for many of our most fundamental treatments, have been leading this effort. This idea is a central tenet of the Chemotherapy+ Foundation, and in recognition of its many achievements, I am pleased to applaud its efforts to advance medical inquiry and empower the people of the five boroughs and far beyond.

Whereas, The Chemotherapy+ Foundation was founded in 1968 by Ezra M. Greenspan, MD. Driven by his indomitable determination and pioneering spirit, he envisioned an organization that would champion emerging talent in the field and positively transform our approach to cancer treatment and prevention. Today, the foundation operates 11 research institutions and provides most of its scientists with full funding for a minimum of five to 10 years. Backed by these long-term investments, our medical professionals are better equipped to test radical new ideas and engage in longer-term studies. The Chemotherapy+ Foundation has played an integral part in some of our nation's scientific breakthroughs, including the use of the BRCA mutation to fight cancer and new methods of delivering chemotherapy.

Whereas, Every New Yorker deserves to live a healthy life with a promising future, and that is why the City of New York must continue to ensure that all people have access to the information, resources, and support they need to overcome health crises. The Chemotherapy+ Foundation has taken meaningful strides in this effort as a leader in translational research and collaborative problem-solving. On the occasion of its 2023 Innovation Gala, I am pleased to join in applauding its indelibly positive impact throughout the five boroughs and far beyond.

Now therefore, I, Eric Adams, Mayor of the City of New York, on Thursday, November 9th, 2023, do hereby confer this citation on:
